ALL ABOUT ME:

Hi everyone! My name is Andrè van der Walt, and I'm so excited to be your teacher next year! I studied Sports Management and Education and have been in the education field for 11 years. I have a real passion for the academic side of learning, but I also love adding a bit of sport into the mix — because I truly believe in developing well-rounded learners. I can't wait to learn, grow, and have fun with all of you!

My Teaching Philosophy

I believe every child has the potential to grow, succeed, and shine when given the right support and environment. My classroom is a space where respect, effort, and curiosity are valued. I aim to create a positive, structured, and engaging atmosphere where learners feel safe to take risks, ask questions, and express themselves. I'm passionate about helping each student discover their strengths while encouraging them to push beyond their limits — all while having fun and learning together.

LET'S MAKE THIS A GREAT YEAR.
